Mission

A Swaminarayan Socio-spiritual
& charitable organisation

A Unique and Progressive Approach

Param Pujya Yogiji Maharaj with the young Jashbhai 'Saheb'.

Anoopam (un-u-pum) adj : incomparable

The genesis of Anoopam Mission unfolded in the year 1957 from a simple yet revolutionary directive from a God-realized guru to his charismatic and much beloved youth leader...

To go forth and establish a new, contemporary order of 'plain-clothes' sadhus who live and work within society, thereby practicing renunciation from within, and perform their service to God via selfless service to humanity.

Anoopam Mission in the words of Saints and World Leaders...

"Institutions are many in India and also throughout the world who claim to serve mankind, but the work done by Anoopam Mission is unique in itself. Under the inspiring leadership of Shri Jashbhai Saheb, they are doing really an invaluable job towards the uplift of the society at large. There are institutions, which provide free food, clothing, shelter etc. to the poor and needy, but Anoopam Mission is way ahead of them in imparting education, knowledge and mainly in building human character. With a battery of devoted, young, energetic and disciplined Sadhaks behind him, Saheb is truly serving the Janta Janardan in the right spirit. May Lord Swaminarayan bestow prosperity, integrity, devotion and bliss on Anoopam Mission as always."

Swami Satyamitranand Giriji Maharaj

"Anoopam Mission, as the name suggests, has a unique approach to address various challenges faced by the modern world..."

Pujya Shree Bhupendrabhai Pandya

"The Anoopam Mission UK is known for its selfless activities and is engaged in bringing the various communities within the larger community of Hinduism together to work for noble causes..."

Dr M. N. Nandakumara Executive Director, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan

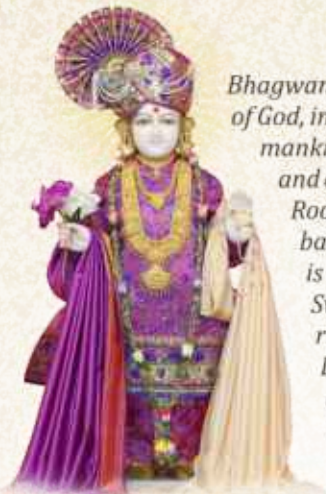

"It is my experience that Saheb and all the Sadhus and devotees associated with Anoopam Mission are doing an exemplary service to humanity."

Swami Nityananda, USA

"Guruvarya Param Pujya Saheb has demonstrated by his own personal example how one can respect all sampradayas while belonging to one..."

Ramesh Kallidai Secretary General, Hindu Forum of Britain

The Swaminarayan Faith

Parabrahman Purushottam
Shri Sahajanand Swami
(Swaminarayan Bhagwan)

Bhagwan Swaminarayan, the supreme manifestation of God, incarnated on earth over 225 years ago to free mankind from physical, moral and spiritual decay and elevate the human race instead to the divine. Rooted firmly in the Vedas the pure and ageless backbone of Hinduism the Swaminarayan faith is today a fast growing, dynamic movement. Swaminarayan philosophy is founded upon righteous living, love and devotion for the Lord and selfless service in the performance of one's duties to family, society and God.

Bhagwan Swaminarayn stated that He would forever remain manifest on this earth through His Abode ("Akshardham") God-realized "Gunatit" Saints, commencing with Gunatitanand Swami (1785 - 1867 AD). By devoting themselves to the service of such a Saint and steadfastly following His instructions His followers would find permanent and lasting peace, joy and happiness.

Anadi Mahamukta
Shri Gopalanand Swami
(The Lord's Ideal Devotee)

Total devotion to God is developed by learning to recognize that God exists within each and every individual (God's muktas). Spiritual practice takes the form of focusing exclusively on the positive aspects of these muktas and by offering loving service to them as one would serve God Himself selflessly, without expectation of result, reward or return.

Anadi Mul Akshar Murti
Shri Gunatitanand Swami
(The Lord's Abode)

Beginning with Bhagwan Swaminarayan's designated divine earthly Abode, Gunatitanand Swami, and progressing down through to the present day, mankind has been blessed with pure, utterly selfless God-realized Gunatit Saints who work tirelessly and ceaselessly to spread Bhagwan Swaminarayan's message of unity, harmony, tolerance and mutual respect.

A member of this lineage of Gunatit Saints, Yogiji Maharaj was a profound visionary who believed that whilst religion should always remain intact, the manner in which it is practiced must remain progressive and in keeping with the times. He believed that the best way to serve God was to learn both to recognize that God exists within every individual and to serve Him by serving humanity.

Yogiji Maharaj was therefore determined to develop a new, more contemporary order in which sadhus would freely live and work within society. He inspired Saheb and eight others to become sadhus and, with His blessings, asked Saheb, as their leader, to pioneer this new Swaminarayan order.

Thus Anoopam Mission was born...

Anoopam Mission's Founder Members

Sadhus with a Saffron Soul

The Anoopam Mission sadhus is known as a "Vratdhari Sadhak" and is the equivalent of a modern-day monk.

Unconventionally dressed in plain clothes - a uniform consisting of sky-blue colored shirt and beige colored trousers - these renunciants live and work within society. The Sadhaks follow the paths of karma yoga (selfless service) and bhakti yoga (devotion), practicing renunciation from within.

By earning their own income through work in schools and industries, the Sadhaks complete self-sufficiency means that they are not dependent on donations for their own personal upkeep and that 100% of every donation to Anoopam Mission is thereby used for the intended charitable causes.

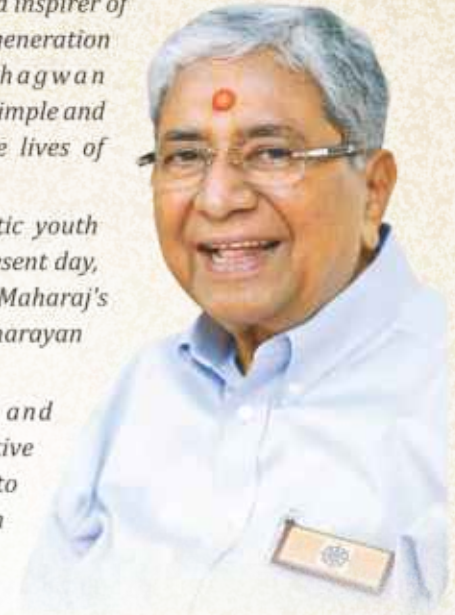

Guruvarya Param Puja Saheb is the founder and inspirer of Anoopam Mission and manifests within the fifth generation of Gunatit Saints from the time of Bhagwan Swaminarayan. Known for His accessibility and simple and progressive approach, Saheb has touched the lives of innumerable people worldwide.

From His days as an energetic and charismatic youth leader under His guru Yogiji Maharaj, to the present day, Saheb has worked ceaselessly to fulfill Yogiji Maharaj's vision for a new progressive branch of Swaminarayan Hinduism.

Saheb continually expounds the virtues and tremendous power of positive action and positive thinking. He also explains that the path to permanent peace, joy and happiness lies in living a God-centered as opposed to a self-centered life.

By utilizing advanced education and modern technology and blending it with spiritual understanding, Saheb has pioneered a refreshingly practical, relevant and scientific path to enable mankind to achieve the Divine.

Saheb's unique vision and contribution to mankind manifests itself through Anoopam Mission's 'Shree Swaminarayan Spiritual & Cultural Centres' worldwide...
